Xmas Celebration On Bigger Scale Downtown Plan

Downtown Business Men's Association Decides on Community Christmas Tree, Visit of Santa Claus and Distribution of Candy to Children.

A large number of members attended the smoker at the Downtown Business Men's Association Wednesday night at 22 Ferry street and discussed the holding of a great Christmas Celebration. Between puffs of enjoyable cigars the merchants recalled the successful celebration of last year and resolved to make this year's event "bigger and better".

A committee to plan the celebration was chosen at the smoker and plans of beautifying the streets and stores were formulated. The following downtown merchants will serve on the Christmas Celebration committee: Samuel J. Riber, chairman; Harry Kaplan, Jack Greenwald, Henry Singer, Henry Lehner, Nicholas Stock, Jr., and Louis Weber. The merchants expressed their confidence in these committee-men for on past occasions they have put sales, celebrations and banquets over for the organization with much success.

More and Better Trees. The beautifying of the streets will be one of the first considerations of the merchants. Last year the boughs were beautiful, lined with Christmas trees and strung with various colored lights of which pictures were taken and are preserved by the Downtown Business Men's Association. This year there will be more Christmas trees in the downtown section and they will be of better quality. They will be given away to needy families after the celebration, just before Christmas.

The Community Christmas Tree, made famous throughout Ulster county last year, will again be a feature of the celebration. The tree will be appropriately decorated with colored lights and the shining star of Bethlehem sparkling from the top. The Community Christmas Tree, the business men now, will furnish plenty of enjoyment for the children of Kingston and the surrounding communities, who are cordially invited to pay a visit to the celebration with their parents to see the tree.

Santa Claus Will Come. The Community Christmas Tree will be augmented by a greater factor in making the children happy—Santa Claus will arrive the same last year. He will come across the Hudson river on the Rhinebeck ferry with his sled and distribute 1,000 boxes of candy to all his little friends who visit the Downtown Business Men's Association celebration. It is forecast that a large number will form the reception committee to receive Santa, for last year there were so many to welcome him that traffic was tied up in the downtown section.

This year there will be added police protection and the merchants will endeavor to have every child receive a box of the Christmas candy to be dispensed. The candy will probably be given out as last year, where the Community Christmas Tree is situated. Parents are requested to have their children on hand to see Santa and talk with him. He will walk about the streets of the downtown section as planned by the merchants.

Band and Community Singing. A band will furnish music for the celebration. Christmas carols that the little folks know and are familiar to grown-ups from school days will be played and community singing will be urged. The leader of the band will direct the singing so that the same harmonious effect produced last year may be had.

Plans will also be made for a big parade of children to march down Broadway from the corner of McEntee street and Broadway, through the downtown business section, headed by the band, to greet Santa Claus when he arrives.

Handsome Store Decorations. The stores of the downtown section will be decorated appropriately for the Christmas Celebration and merchandise of the season displayed. Last year the windows were graced by artistic banners and the merchants will again arrange them in their show windows. There will be lists of all descriptions to please the little ones and lists of those desired will be taken from each little boy and girl who interviews Santa on the streets of the downtown business section.

The Downtown Business Men's Association has yet to complete all plans for the Christmas Celebration and further announcements will be made to the residents of Ulster county through the newspapers in the future.

Sultan Moulay Youssef Is Dead

Reign As Sultan of Morocco Covered Period of Brilliant Growth and Progress in Civilization and Economic Development.

Rabat, Morocco, Nov. 17 (AP)—Moulay Youssef, whose reign as Sultan of Morocco is looked upon as covering a period of most brilliant growth and progress in all forms of civilization and economic development, died today after years of suffering from a chronic malady, without seeing the end of the work of regeneration to which he had given unstinting support.

Youssef whose name means "my master" was often called the father of his people. He was known as an earnest convert to the doctrine of modernization, believing that the welfare of his people was bound up with that of the outside world, although, as a "direct descendant of the prophet Mohammed," he held strictly to the tenets of the Mohammedan faith.

The heir presumptive is his eldest son, Moulay Idris, who, if he is acceptable to the Moroccan and French governments, will ascend to the throne of "the Sherifian umbrella," which is hereditary to his dynasty of Alideu. Moulay Idris will be the eighth in his dynasty, which was founded by Moulay Ahmed and is the thirty-seventh in lineage from a non-in-law of the great prophet Mohammed.

The Sultan, Moulay Youssef, died at Fez at one of the four royal palaces which are in Morocco. He had frequently been reported in ill-health lately, but recently was said to have shown marked improvement and was not thought to be in danger.

Moulay Youssef ascended the throne during a troubled period following internal conflicts between his brothers. Moulay Hafid and Abd-el-Aziz, in 1912, just after war had been threatened by the Sherifian empire as a result of the famous visit of the German war ship "Panther" to Agadir. Youssef at once espoused the cause of the French, placing his faith in the French protectorate, from which he expected the regeneration of his country.

Moulay became a close collaborator with the former French resident general, Lyautey, who is credited by the French with having made Morocco what it is. The Sultan himself at that time admitted that he could not travel anywhere in his country without a strong escort, while today the better part of Morocco has become a beaten path for tourists and many big motor cars whiz along macadamized roads.

Bold Attempt To Seize Canton

Hong Kong, China, Nov. 17 (AP)—The labor party under Chang Fat Fui has attempted to seize Canton, reports from there to Chinese sources here say.

Trouble broke out when the attempt was made at 8 o'clock last night. Gunfire between the contending parties kept up all night and at 4 o'clock this morning became very heavy. Desultory fire continued until 8 a. m.

Martial law has been declared. The gates to the foreign settlement have been closed.

According to the reports it has been definitely established that the labor elements in making a bold bid for Canton have seized and occupied the telephone office. Members of the union distributed leaflets throughout the city bearing the slogan: "Down with Li Chai-Sum" (the Canton Generalissimo).

Fear Airmen Were Forced to Land

New Delhi, India, Nov. 17 (AP)—Lack of news of the plane Princess Xenia, in which Captain R. H. McIntosh and Bert Hinkler set out from England Tuesday on a non-stop flight to India, caused the fear to be expressed that the airmen may have been forced to land somewhere along the route.

The authorities figure that if all went well the plane should have been here between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning. (Indian standard time). It was estimated however, that the airmen had enough fuel to last them until 4:30 this afternoon.

Federated P.T.A. Mellon Nuptial Has Busy Time One of Splendor

Associations Report Variety of Activities—Talks Given by Members Concerning Work Elsewhere—Donations Suggested.

The November meeting of the Federated Council Parent-Teacher Association was held Wednesday afternoon at Kingston High School. All the P.T.A.'s were represented except Nos. 3 and 8. No. 1 had five representatives. It was reported that a letter of thanks had been written to each school principal for his assistance in making the Buck lecture a success. Miss Grace Holmes sent her thanks for the $10 which the council donated towards buying materials for the part time girls' sewing class. It was explained that Miss Holmes works with a different group of girls each day of the week and each girl has a different garment to make. Many articles of clothing made are presented to the Industrial Home. There is no fund provided for the materials and it was suggested that each P.T.A. donate something to this fund.

No. 1 P.T.A. reported an entertainment followed by ice cream and cake and dancing to be given Friday evening. No. 2 reported a membership drive on with teams and captains. No. 4 reported a fund raising netting $30. No. 5 a card party netting $40. No. 6 reported an average attendance of over 50 at their meetings. A recent food sale netted $61. There have been a kindergarten chairman who provides several girls to care for the children from two years up who come with their parents to the meetings. They give two banners, one to the higher and one to the lower grades having the best attendance of parents at the meetings and the two having the best attendance for the year are each given a prize of $5. No. 7 reported a new president and a get-together social planned for next meeting. They also present banners and prizes. "Child Psychology" is to be their study topic for the year.

The council president, Mrs. Russell, explained about the state P.T.A. student loan fund whereby any student in this state can borrow $100 a year at two per cent interest and time to repay, towards a higher education. Mrs. Russell suggested that the local P.T.A.'s consider donating something to this fund. She also spoke of the Cornell five-days' institute to be held in May for training P.T.A. leaders. There is no tuition and the meals are very reasonable and she hoped the Kingston Associations would send some one.

Mrs. H. D. Boerker gave an interesting account of her visit to the schools of Pittsfield, Mass. There are six junior high schools. The manual training class of one school was erecting a building back of the school house, half of which was to be used as a carpenter shop, the other half as an auto shop. The principal of this school specialized in vocational guidance and trained boys to take positions paying $35 per week. There will be no December meeting of the council on account of the holidays.

Hasbrouck Estate Gets Award of $32,000

Commission Which Previously Awarded $71,500 for Land Taken for Approach to Rondout Creek Bridge and Damages to Skillypot Ferry, Makes New Award—First Report Set Aside by Court.

A report of the commission appointed by the Supreme court to ascertain the compensation to be made to the Josiah Hasbrouck estate for lands taken by condemnation for the south approach to the Rondout creek bridge has been filed in the office of the county clerk. The report of the commission, which was composed of Rollin B. Sanford of Albany, William Intermar of Liberty and Herbert F. Roy of Troy, awards to the estate of the late Dr. Josiah Hasbrouck $32,000 for the lands taken.

The commission was appointed August 26, 1922, and shortly after organized and took up the matter of placing a damage value on the property. In the proceedings the county was represented by John W. Eckert, county attorney. The Hasbrouck estate was represented by Howard Chipp and E. E. Oughletree and Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck and later Judge William D. Cunningham came into the case and at the death of Mr. Chipp succeeded him as counsel for the estate.

The original report of the commission made after many hearings and a great amount of testimony had been taken in January, 1925, when a majority report of the commission made an award of $12,750 for land damages and $58,500 damages to the remainder of the property. A total award of $71,250 was made in the majority report. The indirect damage included damages to the old Skillypot ferry, which had been between Rondout and Sleighsburch.

From that award an appeal was taken by the county, objection being made to the award for indirect damage, and on appeal the indirect damages were excluded.

In accordance with that decision, the commission again took up the matter and the present award of $32,000 was the result.

John W. Eckert, county attorney, appeared on the appeal for the county and Judge William D. Cunningham and Edgar E. Oughletree for the owners.

The report of the commission is brief. The facts of the case are reviewed, the amount of the award stated and the report includes a description of the property taken. The report is signed by all three of the commissioners.

Elks' Pig Roast Postponed.

Owing to the failure of receipt of a sufficient number of responses for reservations to the pig roast at the Elks' Club, which was to be held tonight the committee has decided to postpone it to some future date. The hot weather of the past few days is thought to be the cause for people not having any desire to partake of hot roast pig and the committee taking that in consideration concluded it would be a good move to postpone the function until colder weather.

OLD JAIL HAD 25-POUND LOCK

Centerville (Mich.) Calaboose Long Marked by Huge Device.

Centerville, Mich.—The history of the first jail in St. Joseph county, with its now legendary 25-pound lock, such an ingenious combination of bolts and wards that the most expert thieves could not pick it and the most desperate yegg could not unlock it, even with the key, is told by Aloynia McLoughlin of Sturgis in a recent issue of the Michigan History Magazine.

"It was during a meeting of the board of supervisors who were trying to find sufficient excuse for having met away back in White Pigeon in 1832—that one of them hit upon the happy thought of building a county jail at Centerville," Miss McLoughlin tells. "The board leaped upon the idea."

"To be sure, there were no tenants waiting the building, but looking at each other in watchful waiting, they did not know how soon the call might come for housing a criminal and finding them wanting, and, anyway, all well-regulated communities had jails, and perhaps if their county had one, providence (or some one of their number) might provide an inmate," the writer relates.

Built in Two Months.
"And so they got busy, very busy, and two months afterward the county jail was completed, that is, the contractor said it was completed. But contractors seem not to have changed in the last century, for this one, like many of his successors, had left off the most important part."

"The building itself was not bad. It was built of timbers a foot square. It was built in two blocks with an 8-foot space between two stories, 14 feet high, with floors 12 and 8 inches thick, doors of 4-inch plank, grated windows and a strong shingle roof."

"But when, with a last gathering of his tools and a final rescuing of his pennypenny nails from the urchins who had uninvitedly helped, the contractor turned the completed calaboose over to the county, the board of supervisors refused to settle. This contractor had overlooked to place any fastenings on the doors!"

Hunted for Lock.
"So he started through the village to find a lock or a locksmith and some interested adviser suggested the municipal gunsmith. The business in munitions was dull and the gunsmith sailed with delight the opportunity to give his ingenuity full rein. He contrived a staggering and complicated mechanism, weighing 25 pounds, a lock which by sheer weight nearly broke down the door of the jail when finally fastened to it. It defied any unlocking and any entrance to the jail most of the time and rapid exit at all times, and the old lock is supposed to have terrified more criminals in an early day than did the jail that was fastened to it.

"With the jail finally open for business in July, 1833, the whole county sat on the edge of its chair, anxiously waiting to see which village would have some citizen spirited enough to do something conspicuous enough to gain incarceration."

And Centerville Won.
"The honor fell to Centerville, when one of its own, with a full head of hard, silver, 'hammer' mine hair of the tavern. There were neither warrants nor justices of the peace convenient for sending this first offender against the dignity of the great commonwealth to jail, but the sheriff collared him and thrust him into one of the block houses of the new jail, notwithstanding. Afraid to tamper with the gargantuan lock, however, the sheriff left the door open and notified the jailer."

"The jailer, very unused to having prisoners in his jail, forgot all about his transient until noon of the next day, when he hurried over to investigate and found his prisoner gone. He kept his own counsel and began looking up the law to find out whether or not he could in turn be arrested for his inattention of office, but before he had finished his investigation as to his legal status following such a crime of neglect and aiding criminals might come on and with it came a bold knocking at his chamber door."

"Peering out from his window, the jailer saw the outlines of a form that gradually assumed familiar proportions. The battered hat and tattered clothes were not those of a desperado, but they certainly were those of the county Rip Van Winkle, who was returning with a hangover."

The Escaped Prisoner.
"Stealing down the stairs, the bold jailer obtained a close-up view of his midnight visitor and made certain of his feelings. It was he! It was his escaped first and only prisoner. Should he escape again? Not if the county police force knew its business, thought the jailer, and carefully withdrawing from his point of vantage he achieved a flank movement and armed with his authority and a stout shillalah he cornered his amateur convict and demanded his instant surrender in the name of the law.

"Surprised, but not startled, the guilty one turned and held out a friendly hand of good fellowship, at the same time tendering the jailer a grimy two shillings, requesting, with all the exaggerated courtesy of a man doctored of his recognition, that he might have the privilege of again sleeping in the county jail."

"So ended the story of the first prisoner, and the last for several months, although it is not a matter of record how long the Centerville jail was utilized as a hotel by the wayward biber."

The old lock, according to the writer, may have accounted by its capricious ways and puzzling combinations for the death of one DeForest, who set fire to the old jail while a prisoner in 1864 and burned with it, not being able to make his escape from the blazing building.

The old lock, it is related, disappeared with the fire, and years afterward was fished out of the St. Joseph river by some boys at Mendon.

Nestor was the oldest counselor of the Greeks before Troy. Nestor is always the oldest man present. A nestor of the senate would be the oldest senator in a group.

Head-dresses Return to Favor—They Vary From Tightly Bound Turbans to Elaborate Arrangements With Stones or Feathers.

New York—Paris sent word that many of the ultra chic women appear in the evening wearing striking head-dresses, which vary in effect from closely swathed turbans to elaborate arrangements of pearls, rhinestones and feathers.

Head-dresses that are set back somewhat from the forehead, extending down towards the ears in almost halo effect, are particularly illustrative of the new types, the silhouette achieved being quite similar to that of some of the hats now in favor. A striking one worn by a performer in one of the new musical comedies on Broadway is of silver and rhinestones in a Grecian design, with feathered coque feathers covering part of the back of the head and

DELIGHTFUL DISHES

There are few who do not enjoy the piquant pineapple. Added to salads it makes almost any combination agreeable. As dessert it can be used in numberless ways. Pineapple is of itself a digestive tablet as it contains a vegetable pepsin which acts upon the gelatin and softens it. Use a larger amount of gelatin for pineapple dishes.

Meringue Pie.—Mix one and one-half cupsful each of hot water and the drained juice from a can of pineapple (crushed). Bring to the boiling point and add three tablespoonsful of cornstarch mixed with three-fourths of a cupful of sugar. Boil for five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat and add a tablespoonful of butter, three tablespoonsful of lemon juice, three-fourths of a cupful of crushed pineapple and two well beaten egg yolks. Pour into a pastry lined pie plate and bake until the pastry is well browned. Remove from the oven, cool slightly and cover with a meringue made from the egg whites and two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar. Brown the meringue lightly.

Cabbage and Pineapple Salad.—Chop or shred a firm head of cabbage, mix with a good salad dressing and add a few slices of pineapple finely minced. Serve on lettuce.

Pineapple, Carrot Salad.—Grate a few fresh carrots, add a little finely minced celery, a bit of onion for flavoring, a handful of nuts and two or three slices of pineapple finely sliced. Mix with a good salad dressing and serve on lettuce.

A most delightful appetizer to serve with broiled steak or any meat for that matter, is rings of pineapple dipped into fritter batter and fried in butter; serve in overlapping rings around the steak.

Chopped pineapple served with tapioca and garnished with cream is another delightful dessert. Serve finely minced pineapple with orange and bananas in a lemon or pineapple sirup, as a fruit cocktail for a beginning of a dinner.

Most Punctual Girl Elopes in an Airplane

Lancaster, Pa.—Mrs. Casper Dickel, Jr., has had a record-breaking career. In the same year that she concluded her high school term, with an attendance record that set a new standard for this part of the country, she became the first girl in the district to elope by air.

As Miss Alma Hatz she was graduated from the Lancaster high school for girls this year, with a record of never having missed one day and never having been tardy during the 12 years since she began in the first grade.

Recently she and her fiancé, Casper Dickel, Jr., took their first airplane ride. They decided to make the ride memorable in more than one way, for they told the pilot to drive them to Belaire, Md., where they were married.

Hurley Day for The Rotary Club

New Member and Speaker Both From Hurley—Prof. Dunbar, of High School Faculty, Talks on Vocational Guidance.

Wednesday was Hurley Day for the Rotary Club, the first luncheon in many weeks not attended by visitors and the first luncheon at which the first Rotary Club member from Hurley was present and introduced and the first meeting at which the speaker was from Hurley. The new member was Ray Elmendorf, fruit grower, and the speaker was Prof. H. F. Dunbar, of the Kingston High School and Hurley. At the close of the program the Rotarians gave three cheers for Hurley.

Professor Dunbar's topic was Vocational Guidance, which in plain words means fitting young men and women for the jobs they are to work at, first using every endeavor to find out the kind of job it is best to fit them for. This used to be a comparatively easy and was done in the homes, but now things are more complicated when there are 20,000 differing occupations to be filled. Educators have taken the matter up and there are specialists in the schools in many cities who endeavor to fit the boy or girl to the job, after ascertaining the job that the boy or girl is best adapted to by natural fitness and inclination.

Every effort is made to ascertain the natural bent and fitness of the young person and to consider this information in connection with opportunities offered locally. Never say "You ought to" do this and so, but apply whatever tests are available, secure all the information possible, make all information available that is possible and then merely suggest. A survey made in the form of a self-examination paper filled out by the young people made a few years ago by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. was of great value and has been followed up in a modest way with good results. When interest is shown in a given vocation definite selection is aided by talks given to interested groups by persons familiar with that vocation and also by individual talks. All this aids in getting persons into the line of work they are fitted for and avoids costly and annoying failures caused by getting in the wrong occupation.

Professor Dunbar has charge of this work in the Kingston High School, a part of his duties.

CARE OF TIRES VERY IMPORTANT

Pressures Maintained Must Conform to Loads Carried.

In the course of tire development, the experiments have proven that the most important factors in the proper treatment of tires is the adjustment of the ratio between the air pressure of the tire and the load to be carried. Engineers have made long and comprehensive studies of the proper amount of air to be used with certain loads. The life of the tire is actually lengthened and the service given is improved if these observations of the engineers are regarded.

Overloading is Fault.

Overloading is a common fault and the disregard for careful adjustment of air pressure in the tires caused all sorts of tire troubles, which are not attributable to the construction of the tire but to their use. The engineers and chemists are at work constantly improving the materials from which tires are made and the machinery for their production but all of the principles back of the construction of the tire are based on maintaining an air pressure commensurate with the load to be carried and the design of the tire.

If the loads are increased the air pressure must be made to conform otherwise there is an insufficient amount of air in the tires for the load carried and this produces unnatural inflation which causes an unnatural wear on the tires. If the load is too light for the air pressure carried there is not the resiliency or buoyancy to the tires that there should be. This is particularly true of balloon tires in which the variation of the air pressure is a matter to be most carefully attended.

Engine Improves.

Tires like the motor of the automobile respond to good treatment and the good motorist is the one who will heed the best advice as to the care of the engine. He will use his automobile for years and the engine will actually improve in his hands while in the hands of the poor motorist the engine will develop a multitude of troubles. So it is with tires. Proper care actually will give maximum mileage. Considering that the tires carry the load of the car and the contents, as well as protecting the whole mechanism of the car against the road blows, there are no more important elements in the operation of the car than proper tire adjustment, inflation and load.

Denatured Alcohol as Anti-Freeze Solution

Denatured alcohol is best to use in the radiator when the temperature gets down to the freezing point, the amount depending on the climate in which the car is operated. The use of powerful chemicals, while sometimes cheaper in first cost, is very likely to cause damage later, costing more in repair bills than the amount saved, as they attack the metal system and rubber hose connections. In order to guard against loss of solution make sure that all water connections are tight before adding alcohol. If the above precautions are followed there will be no danger of freezing to a car that is used regularly. However, if a car is to be laid up the cooling system should be drained.

Fix Rope for Towing

No one cares to think much about being towed home, but not to make a bad matter worse, some thought should be given to this subject. In attaching the rope which is to be used in the towing, many drivers fasten it to the axle, which is wrong. The rope should be fastened to one of the front portions of the frame, so that the pull comes on the chassis. The same thing applies to the car doing the towing, except that the rope should be fastened to some part of the rear frame.

Courtesy on Road a Joy to Touring Nowadays

One of the big pleasures of modern touring lies in the fact that whether the trip is for 100 miles or 1,000 the motorist has every reason to feel sure that he will finish his journey without having to climb out of his car to undertake the disagreeable job of making repairs on the road.

But now and then some mishap occurs, and a courtesy of the road that all motorists can extend with little inconvenience to themselves is an offer of help to a fellow motorist whose car has become stranded. Such an offer is particularly timely if the scene of the mishap is some point where remoteness from a garage would make it difficult to get assistance.

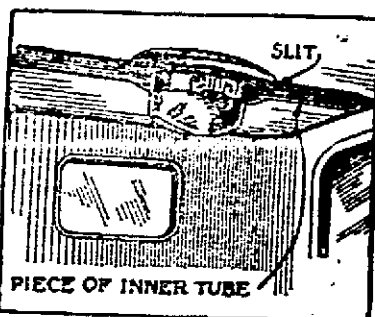

Even the most careful owners are caught unawares at times and find themselves far from home and minus some tool that is essential to making a repair. For instance not so long ago a man who prides himself on his equipment got a puncture on a lonely country road.

He felt he had no cause for worry, for locked on the back of his car were two new tires ready for such an emergency. But when he went to get one of these tires he could not find the key to the lock. He was just getting ready to work the lock when a car drew up with an offer of assistance. It happened that the good Samaritan had a key that opened the lock, and put an end to the difficulty.

Simple Holder for Hats

Convenient at Any Time

Even in cool weather there are times when the occupants of a closed car desire to go without hats. This is particularly true during stormy weather when it is necessary to keep all windows closed. A simple holder that will keep any type of hat out of the way is shown in the illustration. A strip cut from an old inner tube is fastened to the top after a long slit has been cut down the center. There should be just enough tension to hold the hat in place without crushing. If desired, the hat holder can be stretched crosswise instead of lengthwise and two or more strips used instead of one, or it can be located on a side panel instead of the top.—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

The brighter the Sunday the darker the automobile accident record.

Over 76 per cent of all motor cars sold in America are sold on the deferred payment plan.

Sociologists notes the disappearance of the old-fashioned tramp. The hitchhiker has taken his place.

Scientists have produced more permanent finish for cars, but nothing yet invented beats a locomotive.

Maryland has more pleasure automobiles than telephones, with 259,000 automobiles as compared with 192,350 phones.

Don't dodge responsibility. When a bee comes under the windshield, stop the car yourself instead of trusting to a telephone pole.

This year's automobile death rate shows an increase over the 1926 rate, and judging from the lack of shock, or even surprise, with which the news is received, it is rather to be inferred that people were expecting it.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN ENDURANCE RUN

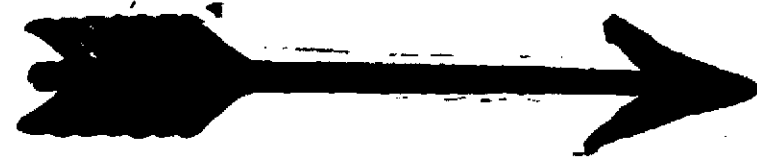

Fred C. Smith, noted long-distance auto driver, established a new world's endurance record by driving his car for 194 continuous hours in low gear, being handcuffed to the wheel at the start of his record-breaking trip by Chief of Police Rolla C. Frater. The photograph shows Smith after the trip.

A favorite Personal Car with Big Car Owners

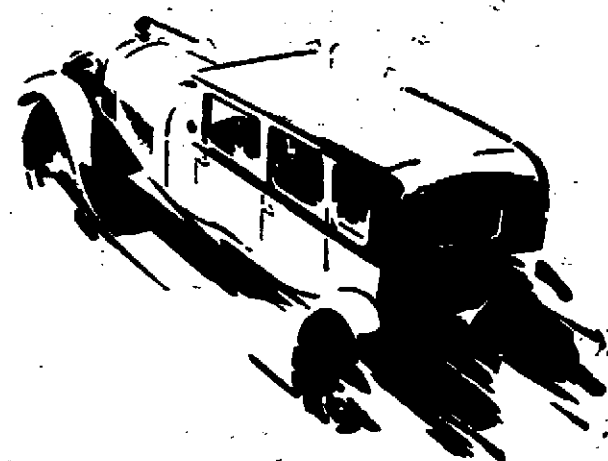

You would be astonished to know how many owners of two or more cars leave their larger cars at home, to drive the Essex; for they sacrifice no comfort or performance their larger cars can give, and they enjoy definite advantages in driving ease and handling. And these same advantages appeal to every owner, no matter what his previous car experience. Essex ownership is a progressive discovery of satisfactions and enjoyments that grow with possession and of which performance is but an item.

Essex is engineered and balanced to a riding ease that seems to erase the ruts and ripples of the road, and operation ease is so simple and effortless that the lightest gesture controls it.

The Essex Super-Six high-compression motor converts waste heat to power, developing more than 2½ times the power its size ordinarily rates it.

In performance brilliancy it achieves a new high mark even for Essex. In its sustained stamina, smoothness and durability you see but one of many advantages for which the Super-Six principle accounts.

Here you have 50 miles an hour all day long—far greater speed if you want it—flying smoothness in action—dynamic appeals that win you in a ride. This amazing Super-Six performance and quality are economical to buy and engineered to lowest operation and maintenance cost.

"Strongheart" at The High School

Play at High School Friday Evening...
 Received National Recognition...
 Long Ago—To be Presented by Able Cast.
 About eighteen years ago in a leading theatre of New York city a certain play was obtaining prominence and fame. Robert Edson, who played in the principal role, was assured of a successful career by his acting in this popular production. Rod La Rocque fifteen years later played in the leading role on the screen and, as before, this work received public acclaim. To top the splendid record of William de Mille's masterpiece, it has been broadcast a number of times.
 This successful production is "Strongheart", and the people of Kingston will have an opportunity of enjoying it, as thousands of others have, Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock when the Kingston High School Athletic Association will present it in the high school auditorium.
 The students participating in this play have practiced earnestly and industriously for a long time under Miss Byrne, who is their able director.
 The setting of "Strongheart", which is a four act play, is in a foremost college of this country. The plot is mainly centered about football, together with the touching romance of Strongheart, the Indian hero and football star, and Dorothy, his American sweetheart. Herick Schoonmaker, who displays considerable ability as an actor, has the part of Strongheart. The role of his sweetheart, Dorothy, is capably filled by Ann Herzog.
 Tickets are selling fast. Anyone desirous of purchasing any may obtain them at the Y. M. C. A. any time today and tomorrow. All seats are reserved.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius
 Half of the world's yield of coffee is said to be used in the United States. Perhaps that is why we are such wide-awake people.
The Longest Word.
 "Smiles" is the longest word in the world—there is a mile between the first and the last letters of the word.
 He smiled and his home was a place of happiness.
 He smiled—and the children ran out of their way to meet and greet him.
 He smiled—and his co-workers in business worked better than in any other place of employment.
 He smiled—and all who entered his office door were pleased to be greeted as friend and equal.
 He smiled—and followed the smile with a brotherly handshake; and those who were discouraged and downcast went out and took a new grin on life and their work.
 He smiled—and while the years rolled on, he grew younger, because—he smiled.
 "Where did you get those wonderful eyes?" the co-ed.
 "They came with my face."
 "Encourage the fellow who is down today.
 To relieve him of his sorrow, The 'Old World' has funny ways. You may be down tomorrow."
 "As a lawyer he never lost a case, eh?" we questioned.
 "No. He defends only handsome women clients," was the reply.
 Spring this one on your future "in-laws":
 "What's the difference between a father and a mother?"
 Ans.: "A father is one who is afraid that every young fellow who calls at the house is trying to marry his daughter. A mother is one who is afraid that he is not."
 A woman rushed excitedly into the house of a neighbor. She knocked once very nervously, but there was no reply. A second knock produced no results. Presently the window above was thrown open and a woman's face appeared.
 The woman below looked up and exclaimed: "Mrs. Clancy, your husband's been arrested!"
 "Oh, dear, me, Mrs. Riley," replied the other. "How you frightened me. I thought it was the installment collector after his money again."

PLUTARCH.
 Plutarch, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Nellie Selderback of Millbrook called on friends in town last week.
 Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hommon of New York spent the week end at his home here.
 Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McCormick and children of New Paltz visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCormick Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeWitt and family of Obolville spent Sunday evening with the McCormicks.
 Daniel Lammon and some friends of Brooklyn spent the week end here on a hunting trip.
 Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bolde and family have moved from Hishland to the John Markle farm.
 Marion Schneider, who fell and broke her arm a few weeks ago, is getting along very nicely.
 Henry Elliott attended the funeral of Mrs. Frank Bauman of Astoria, L. I., who died recently. She was well known here, where she resided for a number of years.

Lasting Marble
 The "marble" used in the Rhode Island state seal came from Georgia. There were 22,000 cubic feet used in construction. This was shipped in large blocks weighing from 10 to 20 tons each, and was sawed, cut and carved in a Providence marble yard. Although the building has been finished 25 years, the marble is in splendid condition.

Tillson Boy in Flooded Region

Lieutenant Deyo, son of W. J. Deyo of Tillson, was in charge of Fifth Infantry's Reconnaissance Patrol which reached Montpelier.

The story of a 610-mile automobile trip which took him into the heart of Vermont's flood-ravaged territory was related by Lieutenant W. J. Deyo, Jr., of the Fifth Infantry, the only one of the regiment's four reconnaissance patrols which was able to push through to Montpelier, the Green Mountain state's isolated capital, says the Portland Press Herald of November 5. Lieut. Deyo is a son of W. J. Deyo of Tillson and a graduate of West Point. He is stationed with his regiment, the Fifth Infantry, in Maine.

Lieutenant Deyo made three unsuccessful attempts before he could find a passable route through the mountains to the partly devastated city. In the White Mountains he was blocked by landslides. In western New Hampshire he was blocked by wrecked bridges and in Vermont he was forced to turn back when he found a concrete road which was obliterated by the rushing flood waters.

The Portland Press Herald devotes nearly a column to relating the story of Lieutenant Deyo's exploit.

As a result of Lieutenant Deyo's trip a route was found over which supplies could be forwarded by army trucks if help became necessary from Maine. He traveled the 673 miles in 55 hours under almost impossible traffic conditions and with practically no sleep or rest.

Kingston Realtors Report Much Activity

Members of Kingston Real Estate Board Confident of Continued Activity and Demand for Ulster County and Kingston City Property—Some Recent Important Sales.

The Kingston Real Estate Board, after functioning one year, clearly demonstrates the value of an organization of its character as evidenced by the progress made. A better understanding between brokers has been cultivated. The standard of ethics as established by the National Association of Real Estate Boards has been adhered to by all of the members in their dealings and a fair and just schedule of compensation to be made to realtors upon completion of a sale has brought about a better understanding between clients and brokers. Not one complaint from a buyer or seller of property who dealt with any board member has been received during the year. This is indeed a record to be proud of.

At one time or another during the year most of the members of the Kingston Real Estate Board have been associated in deals with one another where cooperation brought about a sale. The brokers were at all times eager to assist one another and to be of service to their clients.

Members of the Kingston Real Estate Board report increased activities the past month and the following are some of the sales reported through the offices of the board:

Cohen Brothers.
Cohen Brothers of 48 Main street, who have sold out their stock of antiques and leased their former offices on Main street to the Kingston Trust Company, have moved their real estate offices to the Kingston Opera House Building on Fair street and have resumed their real estate business. They specialize in city homes, mortgages and property for investment purposes.

Albert N. Cook.
Albert N. Cook, who suffered a loss by fire and smoke last summer at his offices in the Leventhal building on Wall street, has been hampered in his work. He is again located in his old office at 283 Wall street. Mr. Cook reports several leases and property sales and is of the opinion that Kingston real estate is improving as evidenced by the fact that many out of town buyers are seeking locations here. Mr. Cook specializes in leases and all kinds of insurance.

John Delloy.
John Delloy of Rosendale reports an excellent fall business in his developments at Rosendale Heights and Rosendale Plains as well as a number of transactions in country homes and farms. Mr. Delloy specializes in country property and has interested himself in several country developments near Rosendale which have proved very desirable.

Frank S. Hyatt.
Frank S. Hyatt, real estate broker and dealer, also resident manager for Berry & Company, Inc., investment securities, with offices at 281 Fair street, reports several transactions, among them are the following:

A beautiful six-room bungalow at Hurley which is equipped with the most modern electrical equipment. This property was owned by Robert Denhardt and was purchased by Charles Fogg of New York.

Farm near Greenkill Park owned by the Dickinson Estate and known as the old Krom property. This property was purchased by Albert Hautch and wife.

The sale of the L. S. Winne home—stead property on Maiden Lane was also consummated through the office of Mr. Hyatt and was purchased by Harry Stewart and the property of Harry Stewart on Elmendorf street was sold to Louis Walker and wife.

A six-room dwelling, located on Millbrook avenue, Hurley, owned by Cornelius DuMont and purchased by Mrs. Annie Hornbeck.

Two lots on Emerson street near Main street were purchased from August Peterson by Edgar Ranson through the same office.

Mr. Hyatt specializes in city property, suburban property and investment securities as well as property for investment purposes.

Nathaniel B. Gross.
The following sales were made through the office of Nathaniel B. Gross of 309 Wall street:

The parcel of land 132 by 100 on the east side of Broadway between St. James and Elmendorf streets was conveyed to the Max L. Reben Realty Corporation. There are a number of stores and dwellings on the property at present which are subject to lease. One of the stores is occupied by the Service Appliances Company, a national concern dealing in electrical appliances for the home. The property was purchased as an investment and Mr. Reben states his corporation has substantial constructive plans for the property when the present lease terminates.

The parcel of land at 255 West O'Reilly street comprising about an acre of ground and a ten room dwelling has been purchased by Albert Haines. Mr. Haines and his family are new residents of Kingston, having moved from Massachusetts several months ago. Mr. Haines is a carpenter and contractor and plans to make Kingston his permanent home. After making alterations he will move into the property recently purchased.

Mr. Gross has also purchased from Max L. Reben a building lot on the east side of West O'Reilly street which will be sold upon completion.

Several transactions in country property in which Mr. Gross is associated with Willet L. Burnett of Newburgh and George Hall of Kingston have been completed the past month. Mr. Gross specializes in country property, having New York brokerage connections, and maintains a branch office at 426 Albee Square, Brooklyn.

Sam N. Mann.
Sam N. Mann, realtor, reports the following sales made recently:

A 3 1/2 acre farm for Henry Mueller of Esopus to Esther Belansky of Brooklyn. This place will be used for a summer camp and a number of bungalows will be erected.

The old Schmidt homestead at the corner of Hone and Hunter streets was sold to Max Cohen. Mr. Cohen will install all modern improvements and occupy the premises as a home.

The former Roach property on Ann street to Abe Cohen, the Union street butcher. This property was sold through the Mann agency for Mrs. Barney Milien. Mr. Cohen plans to use the property as a home after making alterations.

Sam N. Mann was also the broker with the Shatemuck Realty Company in the sale of the residence property and lot at 78-80 Hurley avenue to Fred Van Demark.

Mr. Mann specializes in city property and nearby farms and maintains New York brokerage connections.

Kingston Realty Agency.
James E. Sneed of the Kingston Realty Agency reports the following sales:

The brick double store building located at No. 27-29 North Front street, Kingston, formerly owned by Frank Forman, was purchased by Grecco Brothers of Saugerties, N. Y. The property is now occupied by Army and Navy store. It was bought as an investment proposition.

Part of the former Teller & Tappan coal and building supply yards located on Broadway, Cedar street and Greenkill avenues, now owned by the D. & S. Oil Land and Fuel Company, Inc., have been leased to the Hudson Valley Coke and Products Corporation for a term of years. This company is an $8,600,000 corporation and maintains a large distribution of coke in the Hudson River Valley. Extensive alterations and provisions for a large distribution of coke in this locality are now under way, enabling people to secure a good clean fuel at a greatly reduced price.

One of the new Colonial homes built by James Purcell on the extension of North Manor avenue was sold to Charles Kishaw of Catskill, N. Y. Mr. Kishaw, a member of the Reader's Theatre orchestra, has decided to make Kingston his permanent home.

The newly completed house of Frank Sanders on Wrentham street was sold to Mr. DuBois, formerly of Lake Mohonk, who plans to make Kingston his home.

One of the largest Hudson river estates below Saugerties has been sold to the St. George's Church of New York city to be used as a summer camp for mothers and children. The title to this property will be taken in the near future and preparations for the coming year to accommodate about six hundred mothers and children next summer will be made. This is without a doubt one of the largest turnovers of country real estate in Ulster county this year.

Mr. Sneed specializes in investment properties and homes. He has been instrumental in negotiating several of the largest realty transactions in Kingston the past few years.

Shatemuck Realty Company.
The Shatemuck Realty Company reports the following transactions:

The Shatemuck Realty Company has purchased the Cherry Hill Farm from Ralph K. Forsyth. This farm has been in the Forsyth family for about 150 years, and contains 229 acres, part of which is river flat and the balance upland.

N. B. Gross and Harris Brown have sold their property at 78-80 Hurley avenue to Fred Van Demark. Mr. Van Demark expects to erect a small garage to care for private cars in the early spring, and remodel the brick residence for a home.

Mr. Burns, president of the Shatemuck Realty Company, reports increased activity in Kingston real estate. They specialize in selling city homes and financing purchases of same. Mr. Burns is one of the pioneers and boosters of "Own your own home" campaign.

Ulster Realty Company.
Edwin L. Merritt of the Ulster Realty Company reports the following large transactions:

One of the most important sales recently made which will accrue to the support of Kingston and the surrounding territory is the sale of the Haber property at New Salem to Walk Miller of New York. Mr. Miller is a prominent boxing promoter and expects to establish a gymnasium and training camp at the property and eventually have an aviation field. Mr. Miller has a long string of fighters including Tiger Flowers, the well-known middleweight champion; young Stribling and many others. Mr. Miller expects to spend in the neighborhood of $20,000 in the improvement of this wonderful site and expects it will not only be an ideal athletic training headquarters, but a show-place in this section of the country.

Another important sale is that of the Robert J. Harder property at Lake Katrine, sold to Father Lawrence Bracken for a Catholic Boys' Camp. Father Bracken has already expended many thousands of dollars on the property and expects this to be an ideal institution as a summer camp for boys. The location is ideal and it will undoubtedly be of great value not only to the boys of Father Bracken's parish in Brooklyn, but to others as well.

The Ulster Realty Company specializes in country property and has valuable New York brokerage connections. Mr. Merritt reports excellent business in farm properties during 1937.

Max L. Reben Realty Corp.
Max L. Reben, president of the Max L. Reben Realty Corporation, associate member of the Kingston Real Estate Board, reports favorable progress on the new Florida Heights. This development is in the Third ward and is bounded by Clifton avenue, Lincoln street, Farrelly street and Stephan street and comprises about 100 lots. Each lot is about 50 by 125 and commands an excellent view of the distant Catskills. The entire development overlooks the city of Kingston.

People Turn to Ulster County.
From reliable sources Mr. Gross, who is president of the Kingston Real Estate Board, gathers that with the decreased activities in the larger cities, people seeking real estate investments are gradually turning to the country and Ulster county, now accessible from New York city by motor through the new Holland tubes without the necessity of waiting for ferries and thus avoiding traffic delays, has great possibilities. Mr. Gross made a trip from New York city to Kingston Monday, coming through the new Holland tubes. He believes that nowhere in New York state are greater opportunities offered in country property than in Ulster county. With improved highway travel and ever rising metropolitan property values Kingston and Ulster county must and will share in the growth that will come to the Hudson River valley.

Kingston Nosed Out Albany Team

Lightning Flash Gave Local Quinets Victory Over Albany, 21-18—Kingston Now in Second Place.

In a battle which at times bore a strong resemblance to a gang war, Kingston walked over a fighting Albany team at the Armory Wednesday night, winning the contest by a 21-18 score and going to second place in the Metropolitan League. This contest, a zigzag affair all the way through, went to the Morgesweeks in the last minute when the Kingstonians gained a one point edge and then added a deuce to clinch the contest.

Lightning Flash.

With but one minute to play Kingston and the upstarters were tied at 18-18. In fact, they became deadlocked in this score long before this, but with about one minute to go the two teams were fighting like wildcats to break away from each other. Most of the night Marrin and Riconda were conducting a private scrap, and at this crucial point a double foul was called on the pair. Marrin made his but Riconda failed to put the leather between the rings, giving Kingston the upper hand in the 19-18 tally. At this point the battle assumed its fiercest stage and the crowd was transformed into a shrieking mob. Kingston tried to retain possession of the ball, but once an Albany man broke through. But that was only for a second, for with less than thirty seconds to play, the lanky Herlihy snatched the coveted leather back and whipped it to "Red" Conaty, who had entered the game later, and the Kingston star made an easy toss in the basket to make the game safe for Kingston. Immediately after the final whistle blew.

"Red" Conaty Late.

"Red" Conaty lost his direction in getting to Kingston and was not on hand to start the game. The well-known star arrived after nine minutes had been played in the second half. Morgenweck immediately rushing him into the fray. The crowd gave "Red" a mighty greeting as he made his dramatic entrance into the game. Conaty's only score was the last minute deuce to clinch the affair. Albany had a two point lead on Kingston at half time, the score being 12 to 10. Kingston started ahead at the outset of the second half and after nine minutes of warfare the locals were tied 14-14 with the Albanians. Both teams made their score on fouls. A couple of minutes later Conaty dropped in a single and Marrin and Collins added one apiece on a double offense. Mickey Husta, who was playing a tiptop game all evening, brought the fans out of their seats a few moments later with a long double from the center of the court. This put Kingston ahead, 17-16. Grimstead deadlocked the affair again with another single. Riconda and Husta each added a single marker a couple minutes later to lock the game up at 18-18, in which state it stayed until Kingston broke away for a spectacular finish.

Teams' Lineup.

Kingston displayed a greatly changed lineup than used a week ago. Kinzing and Knothe were in the forward berths, with Herlihy at center. Marrin and Husta started in the backcourt. Herlihy at center was in the midst of the fray during the entire battle, while Marrin and Husta also distinguished themselves at the guard berths. Albany used Riconda and Collins up front, Grimstead at center and Conway and Bergkamp at the guard positions. When Riconda's leg bothered him at half time, Albee took his place up front. However, when Conaty was rushed into the game, Harry went back into the game. Husta made the first score of the game a few minutes after the opening. Bergkamp added a deuce for Albany and then Collins dropped in several for this outfit. Riconda also accounted for a double in the first half while Knothe and Herlihy contributed one apiece for the locals. The game was highly interesting even in the first half, the Albany team ending at half time with a two point advantage. However, the battle waxed hottest in the second session as the teams struggled ahead from one deadlocked score to another.

JUDAEANS WILL PLAY SCHENECTADY QUINTET

The Young Judaeans will meet the Dan's quintet of Schenectady at the Downtown Jewish Community Center Wednesday evening, November 23. A fast encounter is expected after which dancing will be held in the hall. Tickets are being sold by members of the Judaeans.

The Schenectady team is highly rated in the capital district and recently took three straight games from the Lightnings of Amsterdam, a fast aggregation whom the local boys defeated last season. Two former Kingston boys will be here with the Schenectady team, Welner and Avnet, guard and center respectively.

The Judaeans are preparing for a hard fight as the upstate team has been playing together for three years, during which time the coaching has been done by a high school coach. The only teams to defeat the Schenectady team were the Schenectady Police and the General Electric Business Training School quintet, champions of the company's teams.

CHANDLERS DEFEAT PORT EWEN QUINTET

"Tiger" Dies With Prayer on Lips

Negro Fighter Dies in Hospital Following Minor Operation—Once Held Middleweight Championship.

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—With a prayer on his lips, Theodore "Tiger" Flowers, the "praying deacon" of the pride ring, died in a private hospital here last night after a minor operation.

Clad in the "Tiger" bathrobe bearing the huge yellow head of a jungle cat across the shoulders, a familiar sight in rings all over the country, the taciturn Georgia negro, who once held the world's middleweight championship, went to the operating room in the sanitarium of Dr. W. G. Fralick to undergo an operation for a growth over his right eye.

As the anaesthetic was being administered the "Tiger," a deacon in his church at Atlanta, Ga., murmured: "If I should die before I wake, I pray Thee Lord, my soul to take." Without regaining more than semi-consciousness after the operation, performed by Dr. Fralick, Flowers died suddenly when his heart collapsed after he was thought to be out of danger. The surgeon pronounced his death due to "relatus lymphaticus."

Little more than a year ago, Harry Gros, who lost his title to Flowers, in a decision bout at Madison Square Garden February 26, 1926, died under similar circumstances after an operation for removal of bone from his nose. Flowers lost his crown to Mickey Walker on a 10 round decision in Chicago December 2.

Dr. Fralick, surgeon extraordinary to fighters who have suffered injuries, declared that Flowers's death was "one case in 100,000." He said the boxer was in "splendid condition" before the operation and had rallied well. Flowers's death occurred so suddenly, Dr. Fralick said, that he was unable to reach the patient's side from another room at the call of a second physician before the end had come.

Final Game for K. H. S.

Army Service Men Ready for Battle

Yellow Jackets Will Meet Fighting Squad at Fair Grounds Sunday When They Tackle Soldier Team.

The Yellow Jackets will match against a determined-to-win aggregation of Army Service men Sunday at the Fair Grounds. The local representatives have been preparing to add to their great record of wins. A large assemblage is expected to witness the encounter which is forecast to be one of the most interesting of the season.

The soldiers have been going through plenty of practice for the game and have their spirits bolstered by the accomplishment recently registered over the Artillery team made them champions of the West Point Service League. The Artillery team played here several Sundays ago and proved that every player is a capable man. They were downed by the Yellow Jackets when Johnny Cirone carried the pigskin for about a 70 yard run, the only score of the game.

The game between the Artillery and the Yellow Jackets was one of the most thrilling ever played on the local gridiron but the Service team is expected to give the locals more trouble than the preceding soldier team. The Service team squad is composed of about thirty members and no doubt the whole aggregation will visit the Fair Grounds Sunday. Plenty of fresh material will be available for substitutions.

The Yellow Jackets are in good shape now and expect to be in prime form when the opening whistle blows for the game Sunday. Practice sessions have been held throughout the week and the local team will not be handicapped by the absence of players from the team. Harry Scheffel and Frank Sammons, valuable end and guard respectively will again be in uniform after their period of retirement owing to injuries received when the Artillery team played here.

Yale Quoted 10-3 Favorite

New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—With final rugged practices over for the season and polishing practices alone left for the eleven of Harvard and Yale, dopsters settled down today to the task of figuring odds on a favorite in the 46th struggle of the east's legendary rivals.

Despite the string of "upsets" that have marked the meetings of the Bull Dog and Crimson in the past, Yale was quoted a 10-3 favorite.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

A hitherto unheard station passed through one busy, too busy, midst of things Wednesday evening, using the 115 meter wave length. It is located in Raleigh, N. C. and its call is something that sounded like WTCM. Due to the fact that the man and woman who took turns in announcing seemed to be masticating large gobs of tobacco or chewing gum, it was not possible to be certain of the call letters. The station signed off at 7 o'clock.

Early reception was wonderfully strong, both local and DX. Those who tuned in WTCM at the right time heard an address by Millard W. Baldwin, once of Port Ewen, now of Portland, Maine. WTCM is now using 450 meters—another of those over night unheralded changes that the Radio Commission is constantly making. It is midway between WSH and WCFL on the dial.

There was considerable burbling and gurgling in the early evening and during the afternoon while 2XAZ, the test call of WGY, was putting on a test program that ranged from the thunderous to whispering in volume. As a feature of the Willis-Knight-Whippet Hour over Station WABU, this evening from 8 to 9, that imitable trio, Harry Slater, Clyde Doerr and Milton Rettenberg, will be heard in a special arrangement of Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me," for violin, piano and baritone saxophone. The orchestra program played by the "Willis-Knights" will include dance numbers, selections from current musical hits and semi-classical favorites.

The November number of the New York Central Lines magazine contains a photograph of the first roundhouse on the West Shore Railroad in Kingston, showing a number of well known railroad men standing in front of it. Beneath the photograph the magazine has this to say:

In a room in the rear of this roundhouse, John Howard, the late superintendent of motive power, New York Central, Buffalo and East, worked at his first railroad job. The first man in the group is George E. Fisher, the first engineer employed on the West Shore Railroad, who was pensioned last December. The fourth man is George Holstein, still in service on the River Division as an engineer. The last man in the group is Martin Cashin, still a River Division engineer.

LEAK DISCOVERED IN CATSKILL WATER SYSTEM

A leak which caused an average of approximately 250,000 gallons of water to be wasted hourly was located in Catskill's water system on Canal street Saturday by D. R. Wager-Smith of the Pitometer Company of New York city. The investigation to find a leak in the system was started after Water Superintendent J. C. Beare, who assumed his duties several months ago, suspected that surplus pumping was being done at the station, run by electricity at Dieper Hook, to meet the demand of water consumption. The finding of the leak will prevent the great waste of water that was being carried away through sewers unobserved, and save considerable of the taxpayers' money for the payment of pumping service.

Fast Apple Picking

Ten to twenty-five barrels of apples a day is a fair estimate for experienced pickers in apple orchards. Forty barrels a day have been picked on well laden, low, young trees.

SERVED SIX YEARS BY MISTAKE, WILL BE FREED.
Pittsburgh, Nov. 17 (AP).—After serving more than six years in the penitentiary here by mistake, Joe Sarappa was to be given his freedom today.
In September 1912, Sarappa was convicted as an accessory after the fact in the murder of Tony Caraglio, in Westmoreland county, he was accused of assisting the killer to escape, and was sentenced to serve from 10 to 12 years in the Western penitentiary here.
Habeas corpus proceedings were instituted in an effort to gain Sarappa's release, his attorneys contending the sentence was illegal. In ordering the release Judge A. R. Reid held the sentence was excessive and void, since the law provided a two year period sentence in such cases. The release order, signed by the Westmoreland court, was expected to reach the penitentiary late today.

Financial and Commercial
New York, Nov. 17 (AP).—The stock market gave an impressive demonstration of strength today. Buying was unusually prompt in character, with bullish demonstrations effective in the railroad equipment, steel, paper, and other sectors.
Extreme gains in some of the high priced specialties ran from 12 points, while 2 to 3 points were scattered over a wide field.
Early accumulation of the high price investment issues, coincident with the strength of the bond market, inaugurated the evidence of a strong investment demand. Pools failed to be disturbed by reports of the imminence of gold exports, marking up more than a score of issues to new peak prices for the year, or longer.
Lack of official confirmation of reports of an early announcement of plans to wipe out the accumulated dividends on Missouri Pacific preferred brought some selling into those issues after the preferred had attained a new peak at 118 1/2, but Norfolk and Western crossed 195 to the highest price in its history and moderate gains were recorded by several other of the leading rails.
Reports of an increasing inquiry for freight cars and locomotives accompanied the bullish demonstration in the equipment, Baldwin rallying 5 points and American Locomotive and American Car and Foundry each advancing about 2 points. Shubert Theatres, with an early gain of 4 points to a new high around 68, led the advance in the amusement shares. Express shares of the American Can, Transcontinental Oil and Western Union also reached new high ground.

The bride was gown in beige satin and carried a shower bouquet of pink American Beauty roses and ferns. Her sister, Roberta, was maid of honor, gown in green satin with metal trimming and carried red roses and ferns. The groom's attendant was his cousin, Nathan MacDaniel. The house was artistically decorated with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums, the color scheme being green and yellow. The bride was the recipient of several beautiful gifts from friends, relatives and the Queen Esther Sunday School class, whose members the week previous gave her a shower at the home of Mrs. Fred Reynolds at Shady. After the ceremony luncheon was served after which the bride and groom left amid a shower of rice and confetti for a honeymoon trip to Poughkeepsie, Philadelphia and New Jersey. They are now at their home, "Shady View House" to their friends and acquaintances.
